

Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement 2020

Protec Fire and Security Group is committed to driving out acts of modern day slavery and human trafficking within its business and that from within its supply chains, including sub-contractors, and partners.

Protec Fire and Security Group is the UK's largest independent Fire Detection and Security manufacturer. Established in 1968 our reputation has been built on solid and reliable systems meeting the needs of a large range of clients.

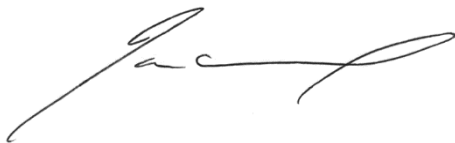

We employ 875 people across the UK with an annual turnover in excess of 65 million.

The Company acknowledges responsibility to the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and will ensure transparency within the organisation and with suppliers of goods and services to the organisation. The company will not support or deal with any business knowingly involved in slavery or human trafficking and review.

We have not encountered or been made aware of any infringements relating to this policy whilst undertaking our activities at any time. The Company Directors and senior management continue to take full responsibility for implementing this policy statement and its objectives and shall provide adequate resources and investment to ensure that slavery and human trafficking is not taking place within the organisation and within its supply chains and review this accordingly throughout the year.

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes our slavery and human trafficking statement for the company financial year ending 31st August 2020.

This policy statement will be reviewed annually and published accordingly.
